Who can claim the Incapacitated Child Tax Credit?

This tax credit can be claimed where a claimant proves that he or she has living at any time during the tax year any child who:

- is under 18 years of age and is permanently incapacitated either physically or mentally, or if over 18 years of age at the commencement of the tax year and is permanently incapacitated either physically or mentally from maintaining himself or herself and had become so permanently incapacitated before reaching 21 years, or
- had become so permanently incapacitated after reaching 21 years, but while he or she has been in receipt of full-time education at any university, college, school or other educational establishment, or while training full-time for a trade or profession for a minimum of two years.

The tax credit can also be claimed where a claimant proves that he or she has custody of a child and maintains that child at his or her own expense and that child is permanently incapacitated.

Where more than one child is permanently incapacitated, a tax credit may be claimed for each child.

Tax Credit/Refunds

If your claim is in respect of the current tax year an amended Tax Credit Certificate will be sent to you in the event of a successful claim and your employer will make any refund due directly to you.

If your claim is for a previous tax year or during a period of unemployment in the current tax year, any refund due will be sent directly to you by Revenue.

Note: There is no refund due if you have not paid any Income Tax.

What records should I keep?

A Certificate from your Medical Practitioner, outlining the child's incapacity must be retained and submitted to Revenue if requested.

As your claim may be selected for future examination, you are requested to retain all documentation relating to this claim for a period of six years from the end of the tax year to which the claim relates.

Can two people claim for the same child?

Yes, but only one tax credit can be claimed for each qualifying child in any tax year. Where the child is maintained by one person only, that person is entitled to claim the full amount of the tax credit. If two people are entitled to claim for the same child then the tax credit is split between them in proportion to the amount paid by each towards the maintenance of the child.
